SOOTHING & SERENE THIS SUMMER

Finally, the sunshine has hit our shores! This year celebrates 21 years of Ulster Tatler Interiors magazine and yes, I have been here from the start. Inside, there is coverage of our recent 21st anniversary awards dinner recognising worthy recipients from various interiors sectors throughout Northern Ireland who have dedicated their lives to the industry.

This summer's colourful and vibrant front cover image is from the stunning new tile range available from David Scott Tile and Bathrooms, Belfast. This edition is packed with the latest must-haves and interiors ideas to give your home a fresh summer feeling. Also, if you're looking for somewhere luxurious to stay in the city, I recently visited the Grand Central Hotel and spent a night in the Sir William Hastings Suite – inside this edition see the beautifully designed suite with its stunning views of Belfast.

This issue of Ulster Tatler Interiors will hopefully inspire you to bring warm tones to your home for the sunny summer months ahead and beyond. Our design pages will help inspire your home improvements, whether it is key elements in the kitchen or complementing your living space with accented soft furnishings.

This is a design-inspired edition, bringing you the latest trends for 2023 including this year's annual Tile & Bathroom Guide. Featuring a stunning '70s farmhouse remodelled by 2020 Architects, an opulent masterclass by Ulster Interiors in Co. Antrim and a timeless tradition by Cher Simpson Watt Interiors.

To all our readers, have a fabulous summer in the sun and we look forward to seeing you all in the autumn for the next delightful range of interiors.

Graeme Kelly, Editor

CONTEMPORARY STYLE AND ENHANCED PERFORMANCE WITH FRANKE'S NEW DESIGNER MYTHOS TAPS

Make a striking statement in the hub of your home with Franke's new designer Mythos tap range, which marries sleek styling with excellent performance and durability.

The latest addition to Franke's premium Mythos collection, this stunning tap collection will add a high-end look to your kitchen. Featuring a beautiful, contemporary design, these two single-lever taps effortlessly combine style with functionality.

Created with versatility in mind, the Mythos Swivel Spout tap has a handy rotating spout that turns 360° to provide more manoeuvrability around your sink. As well as making it easier to alternate between bowls, you will also be able to lift big pots in and out of your sink with ease. The tap stands 317mm high with a spout reach of 227mm and is fitted with a laminar aerator to deliver a quiet, splash-free water stream to create a peaceful kitchen environment.

Designed to make light work of washing up and rinsing fruit and vegetables, the Mythos Pull Out Nozzle tap has a flexible pull-out hose and a handy 360° rotating spout, which will inject a professional touch to any kitchen. It measures 348mm tall with a 216mm reach.

With sleek, geometric lines and a square base, Mythos taps feature an eye-catching L-shaped design, which enhances their timeless appeal. They are operated by an easy-to-use single side lever that provides smooth, accurate water temperature and flow control.

Both Mythos taps are made from Franke's durable solid stainless steel, which is hardwearing, hygienic and scratch resistant, and are available in a chic stainless steel or industrial black finish to complement any interior. They are suitable for high pressure systems and come with a five-year warranty.

The Mythos Swivel Spout tap is priced from RRP inc. VAT £534 for the stainless steel finish and the Mythos Pull Out Nozzle tap from £694.

CAPTIVATING FARMHOUSE

THIS PROJECT BY 2020 ARCHITECTS
BREATHES NEW LIFE INTO A 1970s
FAMILY FARMHOUSE.

2020 Architects, the award-winning architectural firm behind the recent 'RTE Home of the Year', undertook a project that involved the modernisation and refurbishment of a 1970s family farmhouse. They were commissioned by a long-term existing client who wanted to revitalise their beloved home. While the farmhouse possessed some beautiful retro features internally, it lacked the contemporary interconnected open-plan family living spaces and a strong connection to the outdoors, including the garden – elements that define modern living.

Recognising the potential for transformation, 2020 Architects seized the opportunity to breathe new life into the internal layout of the farmhouse. The entrance hall was opened up, and now features a floor-to-ceiling window that frames the beautiful Northern Irish farmland beyond, inviting nature into the home from the moment you enter the house. The existing living room was seamlessly integrated with a newly designed open-plan kitchen and dining space, fostering a sense of togetherness and connectivity. Additionally, 2020 Architects incorporated a wall of glass sliding doors at the back of the house, facilitating a harmonious transition between the interior and the garden. To provide a covered outdoor patio space, this wall of glass connects with the existing first-floor balcony, providing that important covered outdoor living space.

It is 2020 Architects' belief that a truly exceptional home can only be achieved by recognising the importance of the often-overlooked back-of-house working areas. They transformed these spaces into beautiful and functional areas, adding immense value to the farmhouse. Specifically, a boot room was incorporated, complete with a practical boot bench and locker space, ensuring that the practicalities of daily life seamlessly coexist with the farmhouse's aesthetic appeal. Furthermore, a back shower room was introduced, further enhancing the functionality of the house.

Moving to the first floor, 2020 Architects undertook a comprehensive refurbishment. They moved, increased in size and refurbished the family bathroom, flooding it with an abundance of natural light, creating a serene and inviting space for relaxation and rejuvenation. Additionally, the master bedroom underwent alterations to accommodate a dressing room concealed behind an elegant headboard-dividing wall, adding a touch of luxury and sophistication.

Undoubtedly, the most striking changes made to the farmhouse were attributed to the upgraded insulation of the walls and roof. The original 1970s brick exterior had aged considerably, prompting 2020 Architects to seize the opportunity for a complete upgrade. External insulation was introduced, enhancing the building's energy efficiency and comfort. The architects then reimagined the exterior aesthetics, opting for black corrugated cladding, in a nod to the surrounding farm buildings while presenting a modern and sophisticated appearance. To accentuate the black cladding, thin steel window reveals were inserted around each opening, creating a dramatic visual contrast with their shimmering silver hue.

The transformation of this 1970s family farmhouse by 2020 Architects is a testament to their expertise and vision. By integrating modern design principles, expanding living spaces, and establishing a strong connection with the outdoors, the architects successfully revitalized the farmhouse, elevating it to a contemporary and functional home for its inhabitants. The upgraded insulation and visually striking exterior further contribute to the drama of the house. This project exemplifies how thoughtful architectural interventions can seamlessly blend retro elements with contemporary design, resulting in a harmonious and captivating living space that stands the test of time.

TOUCH OF LUX

Upon arrival at the Grand Central you instantly feel that you have arrived at a hotel that is going to make your stay special. The elegantly designed lobby oozes luxury with floor-to-ceiling windows and is finished in warm marble tones, lit with stunning chandeliers. The staff are well informed, exceptionally helpful and polite; nothing is too much trouble, as you would expect in a hotel of this stature.

The top suite, The Sir William Hastings Suite, is named after the man himself, a legend in Irish hospitality, who had the vision for this hotel. The suite is something special, in keeping with Sir William's reputation for perfectionism.

Located on the 21st floor of the hotel with stunning views of the city, it is as luxurious as you would expect from a suite priced at £2500 per night. The interior is rich, elegant and beautifully finished with rich autumnal tones complemented with brass and leather finishes. The bedroom's rich carpet leads into parquet flooring in the adjoining living and dining area with some lovely accessory touches that include a pair of leather-cased binoculars to view even further over the city and a leather-cased game of backgammon.

The suite boasts a superking-size bed, two bathrooms, two separate living areas, a dining area and a well-finished kitchen area with coffee machine, fridge and microwave.

The master bathroom is beautifully finished with his-and-hers anti-fog LED mirrors, a large walk-in shower and free-standing modern bath.

If you are looking for a luxurious stay in the very heart of Belfast then look no further than the Sir William Hastings Suite at the Grand Central Hotel.

ULSTER TATLER INTERIORS AWARDS

The Ulster Tatler Interiors Lifetime Awards recently took place in the Ulster Reform Club, Belfast. The event was sponsored by home solution specialists, Hafele. Guests were treated to a sparkling drinks reception on arrival, followed by a three-course meal, an awards ceremony hosted by Cate Conway, and entertainment by the Motown Sensations. Ulster Tatler Group Managing Director, Chris Sherry, welcomed guests and some of those from the interior design and building industries were honoured on the night with awards made by local artist Stephen Whalley.

Introducing the NEW Quooker Front tap

The original and only true 100°C boiling water tap manufacturer, Quooker, introduces its new tap design, Quooker Front.

Delivering hot, cold and boiling water as standard, the new Front tap has a sleek and minimal tubular aesthetic, bringing contemporary flair to any kitchen. Unlike previous models, it features a hot and cold-water lever on top of the spout, giving it an ergonomic and distinctive look.

Inspired by an original design that Quooker's founder, Henri Peteri, created in 1976, the Front tap features Quooker's patented double push and twist mechanism for boiling water at its base.

Compatible with any Quooker tank, the Front tap can also be combined with the CUBE, Quooker's accessory for sparkling and super chilled water, becoming the tap that does it all.

Simply press the child-safe textured bezel twice and turn it counterclockwise for instant 100°C boiling water. Turn the bezel counterclockwise to the first click to dispense chilled, filtered water. Dispense sparkling water by turning until the second click.

Available in two finishes, stainless steel and black, the Quooker Front tap starts from £1,150.

A family-run business opened in 2022, Elephant Rock was born out of the desire to provide something unique to the booming tourism industry in the picturesque coastal town of Portrush.

Our 18 bedroom Victorian terrace boasts exquisite ocean views and has been extensively renovated to bring our own brand of sleek sophisticated glamour, making it the perfect location for your Northern Ireland adventure. On our doorstep, you will find many of the town's most popular restaurants, blue-flag beaches, as well as the world-renowned Royal Portrush Golf Club – hosts of the 148th Open Championship. Whether you are treating your partner to a romantic break, planning a weekend with friends, or a family looking for a seaside escape, Elephant Rock is sure to make your trip one to remember.

Our Rooms

The complete design concept of Elephant Rock is from Adrian Bailie and Peter McCaughey of Adrian Interiors. Luxurious and elegant, each bedroom interior offers its own unique personality, inspired by a new golden age of decoration. The upholstered headboards and feature wall panels showcase dazzling mosaic tile patterns combined with lush foliage, reflecting mid-century deco architecture. Botanical greens, leafy limes, moody twilights and ice cream pastel colour palettes combine to achieve a glamorous, kitsch vibe. We embrace timeless quality with cheeky sophistication and offer a sanctuary surrounded by marble, heavy velvet curtains, sexy sheers and luxurious linens.

Restaurant & Cocktail Bar

Our intimate, 30-seater restaurant, headed up by celebrated chef Mahmoud Soliman, features seasonal, modern menus showcasing the best of fresh, local produce. The cocktail bar's bold starburst design pays homage to the roaring '20s, mixing marble, metal and eglomised mirror. Curtains and upholstery are a unique custom-designed fabric by Adrian Interiors with iconic images of contemporary and classic champagne and gin bottles illustrated by Lisa Dodds- Henning of 'White Chalk Studios'.

THE GARDEN HOUSE

INTERIOR DESIGNER CHER SIMPSON WATT HAS BEEN WORKING WITH THE OWNERS OF A BEAUTIFUL GEORGIAN PROPERTY IN THE HEART OF THE MOURNES FOR 15 YEARS, HELPING THEM REIMAGINE THEIR INTERIOR THROUGH AESTHETIC ENHANCEMENTS, SOFT FURNISHING ELEVATIONS AND MORE.

PHOTOGRAPHY BY ALEXANDRA BARFOOT

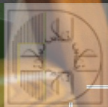

Over the years this classic family home has evolved. In 2018 the client opted to construct a unique Garden House to facilitate their growing family. They engaged with Cher during the planning stage and she played a key role in all aspects of the interior design, finishes, layout and spatial planning.

Working closely with the contractor, Cher considered every aspect of the client's evolving family needs before introducing and installing the finishing touches.

Central to the design was the open-plan living area which would need to accommodate ten people. Cher introduced zoning in this small footprint to include a fully operational kitchen, living space, and ample seating around an extendable table, ensuring the entire family can sit together.

Taking inspiration from the sea and design features from the main home, the interior schemes are classic and yet modern.

The ground floor of the Garden House uses multiple traditional prints in varying shades of blue. Both bedrooms are opulent in their interior finishes, but very much have their own character.

The principal guest bedroom on the ground floor is compact and while it has limited natural light it emits a decadent ambience with its floor-to-ceiling window, charming headboard treatments and hidden storage.

Meanwhile, the first-floor guest bedroom, which overlooks the garden, is filled with light and flaunts a more airy and feminine finish, with soft blush and champagne tones.

The Garden House is a much loved and enjoyed space, acting as a beautiful quiet retreat but also a very functional dwelling that allows independence and privacy for all who stay.

While it is a new addition to the property, it does feel as though it has always been part of the home; an extension with a familiar warmth felt throughout the design.

More recently the main family home has begun to see change. The bedrooms have been modernised, with work currently underway on the master suite. A small storage space above the kitchen has dramatically improved and transformed into a luxurious home office with bespoke joinery and seating areas.

CECO, in Carryduff, have been delivering beautiful bathrooms since 2011. The bathroom showroom is managed by Alison Brown who provides a full, comprehensive design service. With the continued growth of their bathroom business, Ceco have brought on another talented bathroom designer. Chris Ashe joined the team in February of this year and has already delighted their clients with his imaginative and well thought out designs.

Using a 3D virtual design programme, both Alison and Chris have been creating and bringing their clients' bathroom vision to life. This gives them a complete understanding and the confidence that the chosen products and design scheme will work in reality.

Chris comes from an interior design background and, having worked for a kitchen installation company, he brings with him a wealth of knowledge in this design sector. He has a passion for design and an eye for detail that allows him to create stunning bathrooms for Ceco's clients.

Ceco is the main supplier of Porcelanosa sanitary ware in Northern Ireland. Porcelanosa is one of the world's leading ceramic manufacturers, offering both bathroom furniture and tiles.

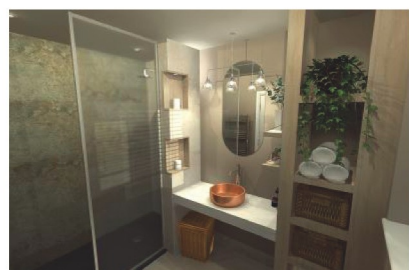

Ceco have also introduced leading bathroom brands such as Acquabella and Bagno design to their portfolio. These products, along with many other bathroom brands such as: Laufen, Roca, and Burlington, can be seen in Ceco's stunning showroom. A large investment in the beautiful Gessi brassware collections have been carefully selected for display to help you seek inspiration for designing your new bathroom.

Ceco's strength lies in its overall expertise and passion for design. The company's carefully selected portfolio of products is what sets it apart. This, and their unrivalled service, makes creating your dream bathroom and interior spaces an enjoyable experience.

DAVID SCOTT

DAVID SCOTT

TILE, BATH & STONE SPECIALISTS

Alison Farrell has joined the team at David Scott bathrooms and has established her role within the interior design community, creating some of the most creative and stunning schemes throughout Ireland.

Alison is a design graduate with a wealth of industry knowledge and experience. She has brought such an interesting perspective to bathroom design that the inhouse "brag board" of finished projects is unrivalled! You can reach out at any time for examples relevant to your project.

Alison pursues an individual approach to every job, whether it be a quick cloakroom makeover or elaborate whole-house design. She refuses to be restricted by parameters of the industry, often bringing in outside influences to enhance the project. As a result, she has spearheaded the deviation into bespoke solutions for the ultimate finished bathroom, ensuite, cloakroom and every evolving powder room fit outs.

David Scott have aligned with companies who will offer flexibility in design and installation options, often commissioning for our use. We are fortunate to have highly skilled local fabricators to further enhance our offering with custom sinks, worktops, vanity units and ultra bespoke on-site glazing.

So, if it doesn't exist, we create it to satisfy the brief properly and actively encourage the "insta pics" that may seem beyond reach. Submit yours and see how we can make them a reality and entirely your own.

Based in our Blythe Street showroom, the bathroom team offer an appointment system, often to include one of our tile specialists so that you get a complete presentation with an unrivalled skill set.

Your Local Bathroom Specialist

Demi Jones

Passion for bathroom design, combined with a dedicated and experienced sales team, ensures that Watershed Bathrooms and Tiles remains at the forefront of the bathroom industry as one of N.I.'s leading bathroom retailers. With a network of seven stylishly designed showrooms province-wide, our stunning bathroom and tile displays showcase an extensive range of product including many of the leading designer brands such as Laufen, Roca, Hansgrohe and Utopia. This truly stunning product portfolio of premier brands allows our experienced design consultants to create bathroom and tile designs that appeal to every taste and lifestyle.

Excellent customer service is central to everything we do. From the initial planning and design to the finishing touches, our dedicated sales team will be on hand to help you select your bathrooms and tiles, and help you every step of the way, advising you on the latest trends and innovative product. We offer a complementary design service and our excellent 3D package allows us to bring your ideas to life.

Demi Holmes of Watershed Coleraine says: "Bathrooms have definitely shifted from being a purely functional area, to a design feature in your house and something really unique to you. Working in bathroom design, no two days are ever the same. It is exciting to be involved in helping someone's vision come to life. Whether your vibe is dark and moody, or modern tranquillity, there are so many options to explore."

New additions to the bathroom industry really help us to stay on trend. We are seeing the introduction of pastel colours within furniture finishes, tiles and even onto brassware. Gun metal grey is one of the latest finishes in brassware, and it is sure to be a trend that is going to be here for a while. A hybrid between chrome and black, it's the perfect feature to add into your bathroom.

Our 3D design service is a game changer when it comes to customers seeing their bespoke choices come to life. Every bathroom is a different design and it is very rewarding to be involved in a project from the very beginning, to seeing the finished design."

Whether you are looking to revamp an existing bathroom or planning a complete refurbishment, the sales team at Watershed Bathrooms and Tiles have the experience and knowledge to provide you with valuable advice and guidance to aid you in making the correct choice.

For ideas on bathroom and tile design, call into one of our six showrooms situated in Antrim, Bangor, Boucher, Coleraine, Eglinton and Larne and allow the expertise and vision of our design consultants to bring your ideas to life!

MARGEY & BJORSON LAUNCH SUMMER OPEN-STUDIO WEEKENDS IN PORTRUSH

Portrush based artists, husband and wife team Adrian Margey and Evana Bjourson are preparing for a busy summer season in their Portrush Studio and Gallery. Visitors are sure to be wowed by Bjourson's impressive wave studies and charming portrayals of the North Coast's built heritage. Margey's dynamic depictions of the North Coast, Mourne, Donegal and Belfast will also delight art lovers visiting Portrush this summer. A mix of bold vibrant work will be contrasted with pieces that use a more naturalistic colour palette. The studio will be open to the public each Friday, Saturday & Sunday 12 noon – 5pm in July and August. As well as viewing the duo's latest work, callers will be able to watch the artists at the easel and discuss ideas for commissioned pieces. Viewings during the week will be by appointment.

Browse and shop Margey and Bjourson's latest work on www.adrianmargey.com and www.evanabjoursonart.com or Telephone 07841593762 for more information.

ELEGANT LIVING

Ulster Interiors was commissioned to design the complete renovation of this beautiful family home set in the countryside of Co Antrim.

Photography by Peter Bruce Photography

This family home provides luxury alongside homely, comfortable and liveable interiors fit for a family with children. The brief for this family home was to keep it contemporary with a neutral palette with minimal patterns. We worked alongside Greenhill Kitchens to design this simple but stunning kitchen with a mixture of stone and wood to keep it soft yet elegant. The open-plan space flows seamlessly from the kitchen area to the family living. The living area is light and airy with the use of sheer fabrics, statement lighting and bespoke joinery.

Alongside this beautiful kitchen sits a gorgeous dining area that has a bespoke dining table with six bespoke dining chairs, all upholstered in exquisite neutral fabrics fit for everyday living and dining. We added wall panelling to the dining area to create a more formal setting within the kitchen; it sits perfectly alongside this stunning large wood-effect tile. The dining area features double patio doors with breath-taking views of the countryside around the client's home.

With this renovation project we designed and created a number of bedrooms to our clients' brief. Keeping it in line with the open-plan kitchen area, we wanted to carry the neutral pallet scheme through to the bedrooms. We used many materials to bring a sense of calmness and comfort to these bedrooms. Using cottons, linens and wools we brought our vision to life. We added subtle pattern and pops of colour within the soft furnishings; different fabrics on the front and back allow them to be changed around.
